People walking into a circus workshop inadvertently	Minor Injury	Member of the public and workshop participants	2	3	6	Put barriers around the workshop or use other means of clearly defining the space in which it happens. Through these means leave only one entrance and exit to the workshop. Workshop tutor should be aware of what is happening around the workshop and look out for this, alerting people if necessary	2	2	4
People attempting skills that might cause them injury	Major injury	Member of the public	3	3	9	The tutor should warn people of the risks of attempting any particular skill. Ensure that all participants warm up and down appropriately for the level and duration of training- in classes and workshops this is the tutor's responsibility. The tutor should check whether participants have any injuries or illness that might prevent them from attempting a particular skill. The tutor should only teach skills that they think are safe for the participant to learn, taking into account their age, height, weight, strength, fitness, illness and injury, physical and mental ability in so far as these can be assessed. Tutors should spot participants attempting skills with risk involved, in order to reduce the likelihood and the severity of injury should the participant not manage the skill.	3	2	6
